

REESE BROOKS GILBERT INITIATIVE

The Reese Brooks Gilbert Initiative, a program of the Evans Project, focuses on honing the leadership skills of young women leaders enrolled in bachelors degree programs at four-year colleges and universities primarily located in southeastern states. During their tenure in the program, young women have the opportunity to participate in experiential and enhanced learning opportunities, develop relationships with program-assigned advisors, and build a network of peers to support their long-term personal and professional growth.

Our mission is to be a revelatory, unflickering light for Black girls and young women in the southern United States through safe spaces and focused programming.
